Each year over 1,000,000 children sustain brain injuries ranging from mild to severe.

Problems seen in children subsequent to brain injury may include deficits in attention and concentration, memory, organizational skills, executive functioning, social skills, emotional control, and changes in behavior. These can present significant challenges for family members and school personnel.

Join WSEPTSA and the Brain Injury Association of NYS to:

- Learn to recognize signs & symptoms of brain injury in all students (not just athletes),
- Discover ways to respond to & assist with student's recovery,
- Become aware of FREE brain injury related resources.
